International Symposium on the Teaching of English in Asia (2)

Locating the Teaching of English in Japan in Asian Contexts: What We Can Learn from Vietnam, Malaysia and the Philippines

Organized by: Grants-in-Aid for Scientific Research (Basic Research B) "Compilation of Asian English Text Corpus and Comparative Study Based on It" (Project C2 of the International Institute of Language and Culture Studies, Ritsumeikan University)
Co-Hosted by: Graduate School of Language Education and Information Science (LEIS)
Date and time: November 7 (Sat.), 2009, 13: 00–18: 00
Place: Satellite Room, on the third floor of Koshin-kan on Kinugasa Campus

【Program】

Purpose of the Symposium and Introduction of the Speakers
NAKAMURA Junsaku（Ritsumeikan University）

Lecturers
Van Van HOANG（Vietnam National University Hanoi）
"The Current Situation and Issues of the Teaching of English in Vietnam"
Saadiyah DARUS（Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia）
"The Current Situation and Issues of the Teaching of English in Malaysia"
Jonathan MALICSI（University of the Philippines Diliman）
"The Current Situation and Issues of the Teaching of English in Philippines"
Prof. YAMAOKA Kenji（Ritsumeikan University）
"The Current Situation and Issues of the Teaching of English in Japan"

Plenary Discussion