

Symposium on CLIL (Content & Language Integrated Learning)

2018 February 10 (Saturday) 14:00~17:20

Location: Meigakukan Room MG001. Ritsumeikan University, Kinugasa Campus, Kyoto.

会場：立命館大学・衣笠キャンパス・明学館 MG001 京都市北区等持院北町 56-1

Participation is free and open to all.

Speaker 1: John Adamson University of Niigata Prefecture 14:00~15:30	Speaker 2: Shinichi (Sean) Izumi Sophia University 15:50~17:20
Borders in CLIL Transferring knowledge through Interdisciplinarity & Translanguaging	Methods in Soft CLIL Teaching with a substantial focus on meaning and skill development

Speaker profiles:

Dr. John Adamson is a professor at University of Niigata Prefecture with an interest in interdisciplinarity, EAP, CLIL, EMI, self-access and academic publishing. He has numerous publications in these areas. He is also chief editor of The Asian EFL Journal.

Dr. Shinichi Izumi is a professor English education at Sophia University. His interests include the processes of SLA from a cognitive perspective, especially how input from language comprehension and speech output affects language learning. He is interested in how to apply the insights from the practice of CLIL, TBL and FoF in the US, Canada, Europe etc. to Japan's education context. He has numerous publications in these areas.

Enquiries to David Coulson coulson@fc.ritsumei.ac.jp Please send an email if you plan to attend

Access: Bus #50 goes from Kyoto Station to the campus. Once here, ask a guard the way to Meigakukan Hall.

This map shows the location on campus. <http://www.psy.ritsumei.ac.jp/~hat/img/access-kic-ja.jpg>