

(Extension of) Use of Ritsumeikan University Search Engine of Academic Records and Career
History of Young Researchers (Ri-SEARCH)

Ritsumeikan University Search Engine of Academic Records and Career History of Young Researchers (Ri-SEARCH) is a system that sends out the research activities and research achievements of current graduate students and graduates of Ritsumeikan University's Doctoral Degree Program to wide ranges of society through the internet. This allows a wide range of researchers in society to form a vast network, and increase the possibility of building a career path based on their own registered information.
