

Workshop

Asian Security Orders:

Hegemony, Balancing or Security Pluralism?

Speaker:

Prof. Amitav Acharya

Visiting Professor, Ritsumeikan University
School of International Service, American University
Past-President of the International Studies Association

Free Admission

Discussant:

Prof. Go Ito School of Political Science and Economic, Meiji University

Chair

Prof. Naoki Ishihara College of International Relations, Ritsumeikan University

Time and Date:

16:20-17:50 26 May 2016 (Thur.)

Venue:

Soshikan Hall, Kinugasa Campus,
Ritsumeikan University

Language: English

Prof. Amitav Acharya

Prof. AMITAV ACHARYA is Professor of International Relations at the School of International Service, American University, Washington, DC. He also holds the UNESCO Chair in Transnational Challenges and Governance since 2011. His areas of research and writing include Southeast Asian affairs, Asian security, international relations theory, and comparative regionalism. He has published widely on Southeast Asian and Asian regionalism, and the diffusion of ideas and norms in world politics.

Prof. Go Ito is Professor of School of Political Science and Economics, Meiji University. His research themes are International Relations. Foreign policy analysis. International relations of the Asia-Pacific Region. China-U.S.-Japan triangular relations.

Inquiries:

towards-new-peace studies@hotmail.co.jp

Hosted by:

Ritsumeikan Global Innovation Research Organization (R-GIRO)

Graduate School of International Relations, Ritsumeikan University

Research Project 「紛争・平和研究」, Institute of International Relations and Area Studies, Ritsumeikan University