

How to make appointments for one-on-one sessions

Step 1

Ask for an appointment with SSP coordinators by telephone, e-mail, or personally visiting the office.

Step 2

Identify your strengths and weaknesses by acquiring appropriate skills and techniques through discussions with SSP coordinators placed in every campus.

Step 3

Coordinators provide students with the necessary assistance to resolve difficulties and connect them with relevant resources on campus.

Let us use the SSP support tools!

Students can find support tools for study planning and self-management on the SSP homepage and at the reception counter in the office of Student Affairs. Apply these support tools to make your student life more fulfilling. Please check the SSP homepage for further information.

Changes now lead to changes tomorrow Become the person you aspire to be with SSP

I want to better handle the educational differences between Japan and my home country

I want to be more efficient in performing various tasks

There are many things
I want to do but don't know where to begin

I want my campus life to become more manageable and productive

I want to make good use of the various facilities and club activities offered by the university

I want to identify my strengths and weaknesses

How can I learn to balance my studies
and a part-time job?

What is SSP?

The Student Success Program (SSP) supports and guides students, helps them to foster the following skills within themselves, and aims to develop their capabilities as independent and self-directed learners.

SSP coordinators assist students by offering ideas and techniques they can utilize to obtain the abilities to help them achieve their individual goals.

SSP support programs

SSP organizes sessions for both large and peer assisted session, as well as one-on-one interventions. Students can use any of these services depending on their needs.
