Global and Japanese Perspectives Program

Features Include

1

Study about Japan and Coping with Global Issues from Japan

2

Learn from Top Experts in Japan

3

Study in the Historical and Cultural Capital of Japan-Kyoto

The Global and Japanese Perspectives Program (GJP) is a new bilingual Master's program. GJP provides specialized Japan study courses and core courses on international relations. The program provides new GJP Platform courses in which international students can learn and discuss among themselves in Japanese without being intimidated by Japanese native speakers. Comprehensive Japanese language courses are paired with GJP Platform courses, enabling students to acquire practical and academic Japanese language skills. Students in this program will come to a new understanding of Japan by studying the political, economic, and cultural changes brought about by globalization.
