INTRODUCTION

I. Extracurricular Activities at Ritsumeikan University

1. Explanation and Types of Extracurricular Activities

At Ritsumeikan University, a variety of extracurricular activities are conducted in the following categories.

- (1) Extracurricular activities conducted as part of clubs, circles, study groups, etc. (approximately 350 organizations) that are considered to be part of the Student Union (see next section)
- (2) International exchange/cooperation, class improvement, peer support, and volunteer activities, and academic conferences and independent seminars closely related to undergraduate teaching and learning
- (3) The various activities of undergraduate project groups, learning communities, etc. They either are derived from the curriculum, or conducted independently in extracurricular settings by peers who have come together for a novel purpose.

About 60% of Ritsumeikan University students participate in the above activities.

So that students with diverse backgrounds and characteristics can learn from each other, engage in friendly rivalry, and learn and grow independently in a community of learning throughout their entire curricular and extracurricular student life, Ritsumeikan University provides support for extracurricular activities that is based on cooperation between the faculty and staff of various organizational units.

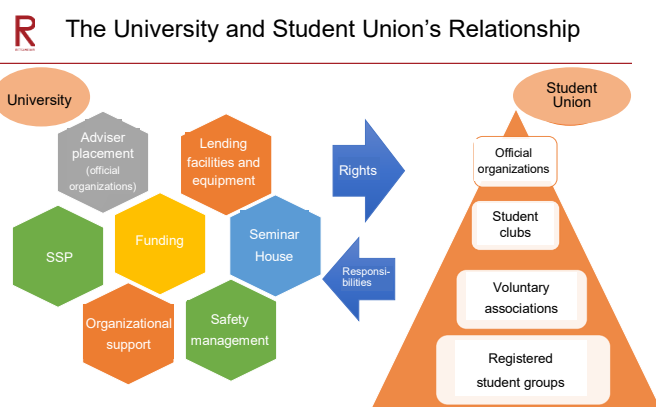

1.1 The Significance of Extracurricular Activities

In addition to regular courses, Ritsumeikan University defines extracurricular activities (club and circle activities, peer support, etc.) as important learning opportunities. These activities, which are based on the principle of free participation, offer students a variety of options according to their interests and the skills they would like to acquire. In addition to the satisfaction and fulfillment you gain from the activities themselves, participation in academic, arts, sports, and student self-government activities will provide you with a great opportunity to learn skills that will be useful in the real world, including interpersonal relations, because of the diverse array of students involved. Increased diversity within an organization helps to further enhance the quality of the activities and creates opportunities for new discoveries and growth. The valuable experiences that students gain during their university years will give them a useful start to enrich their futures.

1.2 Support Provided by the University

Ritsumeikan University provides support for extracurricular activities by lending facilities and equipment, funding, training and seminars, and more. Details are provided in this booklet and on the extracurricular activities and scholarships websites.

I. Extracurricular Activities at Ritsumeikan University

1.3 Types of Extracurricular Activities

The types and specific categories of extracurricular activities available at Ritsumeikan University are shown below. For example, extracurricular activity groups belonging to the Student Union are classified as an official organization, student club, or voluntary association. This classification is based on the rules of the University Student Council and rules of the Academic, Cultural, and Athletic Divisions. There are also circles (registered student groups).

There are also groups not affiliated with the Student Union. These include undergraduate project groups, undergraduate independent seminars, and funded groups (such as learning communities). In this way, students can find activities that suit themselves from a wide range of options.

2. About the Ritsumeikan University Student Union

2.1 The Ritsumeikan University Student Union

The Ritsumeikan University Student Union is a self-governing student organization consisting of all undergraduate students of Ritsumeikan University. Its purpose is to contribute to the development and improvement of curricular studies, extracurricular activities, and the advancement of the Ritsumeikan Academy. In addition to planning and executing welcome events for new students and the school festival, students engage in self-government activities aimed at improving curricular class learning, extracurricular activities, and students' daily life environments.

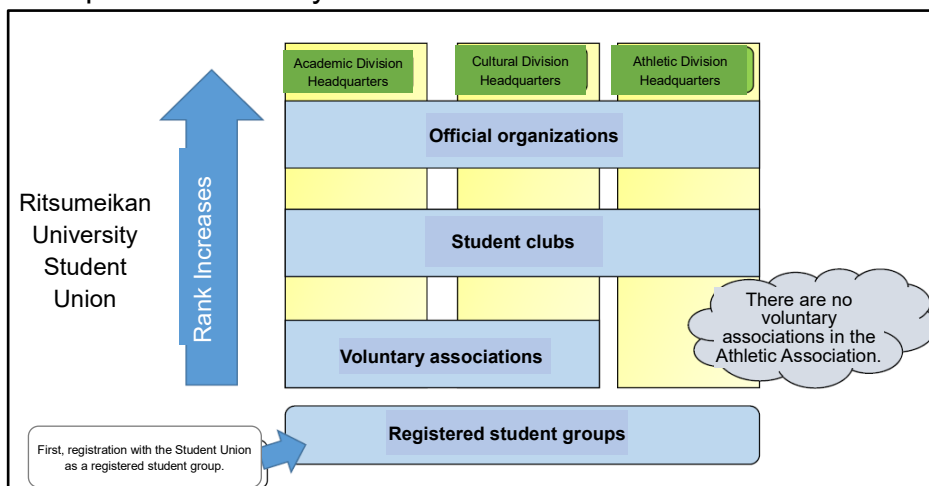

2.2 About Student Union Fees

For Student Union activities, membership fees (admission fee: ¥3,000, annual fee: ¥5,000) are collected from members. These funds are mainly used for new student welcome events, school festivals, and the activities of students' extracurricular groups (Athletic/Academic/Cultural Division official organizations and other groups; self-governing bodies/committees; cheering squad, Broadcasting Club, etc.).

2.3 The Student Union's Certification System

The Ritsumeikan University Student Union has established a system for certifying certain extracurricular activity groups. This system is notable in that students develop their own extracurricular activities and vouch for each other's activities. At Ritsumeikan University, there are about 350 extracurricular activity groups. Since it is not possible to lend facilities/equipment and provide financial support to all groups equally, there are four categories within the certification system: official organizations, student clubs, voluntary associations, and registered student groups.

The Group Certification System of the Student Union

- Can use the University's facilities related to extracurricular activities.
- Can use the various equipment managed by the university.
- Listed on the website "SPORTS & CULTURE," which introduces extracurricular activities.
- Can apply for various grants from the University.
- Assignment of university faculty/staff adviser, president, and vice president positions (only for official organizations) and more

3. Procedures for the Establishment, Continuation, and Promotion/Demotion of Groups

Creating a New Community

Scholarships and Grants to Support Extracurricular Growth

Some groups want to create new learning communities and take on challenges, step up to the next level, and grow. This might include small group learning or diverse learning group activities that span colleges. These groups can use the university's scholarships and grants program for extracurricular growth to create new communities. For more information, please check the Scholarship and Grants website.

Groups that fail to do so will not be able to receive support from the university or Student Union, including the use of facilities and equipment, so please be sure to submit the forms. Also, groups may be assumed to have no intention to continue and be dissolved. Anytime there is a change of officers or other registered information in the middle of the academic year, please complete the required procedures to report this via the Student Union website, and update your member registration information.

1. The Handling of Officer Notification Form, Group Member Notification Form and Group Member Registration Information

The information provided in the officer notification form, group member notification form and group member registration is used for emergency contact, career and employment support, the creation of alumni lists, and to compile statistics on member numbers in order to understand the state of extracurricular activities at the university. Names and other personal information will be strictly managed in accordance with the Ritsumeikan Trust Personal Information Protection Regulations.

Each group's member registration on CAMPUS WEB can be updated by those with the authority to do so. (E.g., the representative and vice-representative of each academic year). It is important to always update member information, not only so the university can know who belongs to each group, but also in case of any incidents or accidents. Whenever the leadership changes, please make sure to transfer the authority from the previous representative/vice representative to the new members via CAMPUS WEB.

4. The Adviser, President, and Vice President System

4.1. Purpose and Objectives

A function of extracurricular activities is to, while supplementing the curricular education, realize the objectives of university education in a different way.

In light of this, the purpose of assigning faculty/staff advisers, presidents, and vice presidents that provide support and guidance to extracurricular activity groups is to further develop student culture and activities at the university and establish a university-wide, comprehensive support system.

Advisers, presidents, and vice presidents are generally assigned to the central operations groups and Academic/Cultural/Athletic Division official organizations under the Student Union, project groups approved by the Division of Student Affairs, and other groups approved by the Division of Student Affairs. They provide advice and guidance on the activities of the groups.

4.2. Roles

The main roles of advisers, presidents, and vice presidents are as follows.

- (1) Support and guidance about group activities
- (2) Learning support
- (3) Support for career and job-hunting activities

II. Annual Planning and Procedures for Regular Activities

1. Create an Annual Plan

Making an annual plan is very important for invigorating and improving extracurricular activities. Groups are encouraged to carry out fulfilling activities that are rooted in goal setting, annual planning, budget calculations, and plan implementation.

(1) Creating an annual plan

An annual plan is the basis of the year's activities. To achieve goals, make a plan for what you will achieve, and when and how you will do so.

(2) Creating a budget plan

Create a budget plan based on the annual plan and acquire an overall picture of expenses for the year's activities.

(3) Carrying out activities and using the budget

Based on the annual and budget plans, groups work to achieve their goals. Activities cost money. Groups should manage their budget while using it.

(4) Reviewing activities and closing books

Reflecting on the year's activities and passing them on to the next generation are necessary for group improvement. Groups should review their activities and finances, and aim to improve themselves.

2. TriR Campus (TriR)

Applications and confirmations for facility reservations within the University for extracurricular activities should be made directly by the extracurricular activity group through the “Facility Reservation System (TriR Campus)” (hereinafter referred to as TriR)) (excluding special use applications). The following is an outline of TriR. Please note that you must obtain authorization to use TriR and that it is not possible to reserve/confirm reservations for facilities directly at the counter of the Division of Student Affairs (excluding athletics facilities at Kinugasa Campus and Biwako-Kusatsu Campus.)

2.1. Benefits of TriR

- (1) Facility reservation availability on all three campuses can be checked online (*excludes some facilities).

*Reservation methods for athletics facilities are currently being coordinated (as of December 2023).

2.2. TriR Account (ID/Password)

Please note that the account (ID/password) must be used and managed by the applicants of the group only, and must never be shared within or outside of the group to which the applicant(s) belongs.

<https://www.ritsumei.ac.jp/infostudents/activity/>

(3) Creation of TriR Account

TriR account applications typically have two deadlines per month. Accounts will be issued approximately one week after the application deadline and the applicant will be notified via manaba+R. Furthermore, TriR accounts need to be updated yearly. If you wish to use TriR for more than a year, please attend the TriR guidance on a yearly basis and reapply for an account.

II. Annual Planning and Procedures for Regular Activities

6. Certificate of Competition Participation and Procedures for Makeup Examinations

The certificate is designed to support students in balancing their studies with their extracurricular activities, so that when they are forced to miss classes due to official competitions or other similar events, they can study on their own for those classes with the guidance and support of their instructors. The certificate certifies that participation in a competition or other similar event is the reason for absence from class, and do not render classes missed “attended” or “official absences.” Also, in almost all cases applications are submitted by groups and not individuals.

classes (e.g., collecting materials, borrowing notes, checking class points and self-study content, etc.).

How Travel Days Are Handled

As a general rule, travel days are not eligible for the issuance of the certificate. However, if you cannot make it to the competition without traveling the day before, or if you are unable to return home on the day of the competition and will not make class even by taking the first train/bus/flight the next day, please consult with the Office of Student Affairs/Office for Athletes and Sports Services. Bring proof that this is the case.

Procedures for Makeup Examinations

The above certificate will be required to apply for a makeup examination. Students who are eligible for the certificate and unable to take a final examination due to the competition should consult with the Office of Student Affairs/Office for Athletes and Sports Services at least three weeks in advance once the competition and examination schedules become clear. (Required documents: Competition guidelines and materials showing the date of the exam, etc.)

7. Community Exchange

7.1. Community Involvement

At Ritsumeikan University, many extracurricular activity groups go beyond the campus, expanding their activities to the larger community around Ritsumeikan's Kyoto, Kusatsu, and Ibaraki campuses to actively engage with many locals. While some groups have "community exchange activities" as one of their activity goals, many requests have been made to Ritsumeikan University by local residents, and the opportunities for community exchange and activities in extracurricular activities are expanding year by year.

Community exchange is not just service but also opportunities for groups to embody their activities and have them be widely appreciated. The understanding and support of the local community directly links to the increase in motivation to run activities and for these activities to be taken to a higher level. Please consider community exchange as an opportunity to present your group's regular activities, and actively create opportunities to interact with locals.

7.2. The Process Leading up to Community Exchange Activities

Extracurricular activity groups may receive requests from locals for community exchange activities. When these requests are received through the Office of Student Affairs, the following steps should be followed.

- (1) Requester → Office of Student Affairs → Extracurricular activity group receives request for community exchange
- (2) Extracurricular activity group → Reviews the request and decides whether to participate → Informs requester/Office of Student Affairs of decision → (If participating) Meets the requester to work out details → Participates in community exchange activity

As a general rule, the requester should pay for the expenses (travelling expenses, food, transportation, materials, etc.) required to participate in the activity. Honorariums (or lack thereof) should be determined through discussions with the requester.

7.3. Tips and Notes

- Please be sure to respond to all correspondence from the requester and the Office of Student Affairs.
- Respond as early as possible. The deadline for responses is two weeks in principle.
- Be careful when handling personal information.
- Be sure to dress and speak appropriately.
- Handle the requester's equipment and supplies with care.
- Cars, motorcycles, and bicycles must be parked in locations designated by places you are visiting.
- If there is an injury during an activity, please report it immediately.

8. Dissemination of Group Information

8.1. Dissemination of Group Information

Not only Ritsumeikan students, but also local residents, parents, and alumni look forward to the activities of groups. By disseminating information about your group, those interested will find out about these activities, actually come to cheer on teams at competitions or watch concerts, ask for groups to engage in community exchange, and sometimes offer their support. In order for your group to carry out a wide range of fulfilling group activities, it's best to let a lot of people know about your group's activities.

8.2. SPORTS & CULTURE

SPORTS & CULTURE is a website where you can introduce your extracurricular activities and post event announcements and competition results. There is also an introduction page for each group, and users can search for information by group. This site is made up of information provided by you. Please share updates on your group frequently so that many people will look at the website. For more information, please see the SPORTS & CULTURE page on posting group information.

Webpage on posting group information
(<https://www.ritsumeikai.ac.jp/infostudents/resistration/>)

8.3. Handling of Personal Information

Increasingly, problems are being caused by careless postings on the internet, such as ones disclosing personal information. In addition, there are cases where people get involved in antisocial activities through people they meet on the internet, or get caught up in various kinds of trouble. This might involve demands to pay exorbitant charges or pyramid schemes.

It is necessary to be fully aware that personal information carries risk of leakage and misuse. Please be fully aware that when posting personal information on the internet in a form that is accessible to all, that information may be collected and used by other internet users.

Please be very careful in handling personal information when producing your group's website and promotional flyers. It is important not to carelessly post personal information. Ritsumeikan University has voluntarily established rules, systems, and a privacy policy to ensure the appropriate handling of personal data in accordance with the Act on the Protection of Personal Information. Please consider again how you handle information by referring to the information provided here.

9. How Groups Should Protect Personal Information

In groups' activities, there are many situations in which personal information is handled. Each group should establish its own rules for handling this information and ensure that they are followed.

In recent years, more and more groups are using web-based services to manage personal information. The following is a list of points to keep in mind when using such web services.

9.1. Information Management Using Online Storage and Other Web Services

While uploading files to online storage and other web services is now commonplace because it is convenient and makes sharing files easy, it is not entirely safe. Please be aware of the following points.

- (1) The standard sharing method for almost all online storage services is allowing files to be viewable by anyone on the internet.
As a countermeasure, you can limit the number of people you share the files with, or delete the files as soon as an intended recipient receives them.
 - (2) Be aware of what permissions you are giving to the person you are sharing with. In most cases, the permissions you grant to the other party are: view, edit, and reshare.
By restricting the permissions, you can prevent accidental editing, tampering, and loss.
- Even if you are not using a web service, always use passwords for files that contain personal information before sharing them.

9.2. If Personal Information is Leaked

Please contact the Office of Student Affairs immediately.

*Contact the Campus Information Center after hours as the Office of Student Affairs is only reachable by phone between 9:00-17:30 on weekdays.

*Contact details for the Office of Student Affairs and the Campus Information Center are listed at the end of this booklet.

III. Money Management, Grants, and Incentives

1. Budgeting, Management, and Closing Books

- Annual closing of books
- Budget for individual projects (concerts, presentations, trips, overnight activities, etc.)
- Closing books for individual projects (concerts, presentations, trips, overnight activities etc.)
- Cash account books for each activity

- Daily or monthly ledgers, as needed

→ As an organization, it is essential to have the persons in charge report to group members how the money collected has been spent, as well as to plan group activities.

Student Union Official Organizations

Groups using Student Union fees are required to submit a financial report to the Student for each month or event in which their fees are used. The fees are only disbursed based on reports regarding expenses already incurred, so please make sure that your group manages finances and evidence of expenditures on a day-to-day basis.

* Receipts are important evidence for the settling of accounts. Please make it a habit to obtain receipts and get them addressed to “XX (name of groups), Ritsumeikan University”.

2. Grants and Recognition

Extracurricular activity groups wishing to receive a grant should note the following:

- Check the Ritsumeikan University's scholarship and grant programs website (see below).

IV. To Conduct Advanced Activities in a Safe Manner

1. Guidance, Seminars, and Other Training Opportunities

1.1. Extracurricular Activity Guidance

Every year around December, the Office of Student Affairs holds extracurricular activity guidance for the incoming leadership officers of student groups. It focuses on the university's various programs, how to apply for grants, and what the groups' leaders need to know. All of this information is important, so please be sure to attend. Information about the guidance will be shared via manaba+R, the Student Union website, and the division headquarters mailing lists.

1.2. Student Life Seminars

Students face various issues that may threaten the safety and security of their student life. These include problems at part-time jobs, pyramid schemes, information ethics issues (appropriate use of social networking services), cult groups, harassment (including stalking and molestation), and inappropriate drinking. Since some outside organizations take advantage of the group characteristics of university student groups, seminars are held on student life as a routine risk management measure. Information about these seminars will be sent to the representatives of each group via manaba+R, etc. as needed, so please participate.

Planned Seminars

Planned Topics:

- (1) Bad business practices (e.g. pyramid schemes), (2) Measures against cult groups, (3) How to manage money properly and appropriate use of SNS (and other topics related to the change in age of adulthood), (4) Drug abuse prevention (5) How to drink responsibly (7) "Black" exploitative part time jobs, (8) Crime prevention classes for women and more.

*Experts and others from outside the university will be invited as lecturers.

IV. To Conduct Advanced Activities in a Safe Manner

Handling of Extracurricular Activities in the Event of Typhoon or Other Disaster:

If a typhoon is expected, please decide in advance whether to conduct the activity, or to shorten its time.

The cancellation of classes and other university functions is determined based on the Ritsumeikan University Regulations on Curricular Classes.

2.1. When Classes Are in Session

When curricular classes are canceled (based on the issuance of storm warnings/special warnings, suspension of public transportation, typhoon forecast, etc.), extracurricular activities will also be suspended at that time. Stop immediately and return home while it is safe to do so.

Campus facilities (classrooms, Student Center, gymnasiums, sports fields, seminar houses, etc.) will not be available until the warning is lifted.

2.2. When Classes Are Not in Session (Including Summer, Winter, and Spring Breaks; Saturdays and Sundays When There Is No Class or Make-up Class)

Campus facilities cannot be entered or used with the issuance of special/storm warnings, evacuation orders/instructions/recommendations based on warnings, or the suspension of public transportation.

A notification will be posted on manaba+R that campus entry is prohibited.

Until the storm warning is lifted, please refrain from extracurricular activities.

If a typhoon is clearly approaching the area where you plan to engage in activities, it is recommended that you take early action and cancel your extracurricular activities in advance for safety reasons.

2.3. During Trips and Overnight Activities

If a typhoon is predicted to approach or pass through the area before a trip/overnight activity, please cancel your plans. In the event that a storm warning, etc., is issued during a trip/overnight activity, please cancel the activities and seek advice from your group adviser, president, or vice president, or university offices such as the Office of Student Affairs.

If after entering campus your current area of residence is under a storm warning or designated as a disaster area, and you are unable to return home, you may wait and stay overnight at a facility on campus. In this case, please consult with the Office of Student Affairs or the Office of Regional Collaboration.

(4) Points to Note

Because some injury types and wound locations may not be covered by Gakkensai, we strongly recommend that group members that are at risk of injury (e.g., members of Athletic Association and other sports-oriented groups) purchase the Sports Safety Insurance. For details, please refer to "3.3. Sports Safety Insurance".

3.2. About Event Insurance

IV. To Conduct Advanced Activities in a Safe Manner

We recommend that groups purchase insurance for events that may result in injury or similar incidents. Without this insurance, groups may be faced with large medical bills if an accident occurs that requires a hospital visit or hospitalization. Particularly in events with participants from outside the university, the organizer is often held responsible for injuries sustained by participants. To prepare for such eventualities, the university provides information on recreation insurance (accident insurance) and event organizer liability insurance. Both are handled by Creohuman. The type of insurance depends on the type of event, the number of participants, and other factors. Below are some typical plans that are often used by extracurricular activity groups at the university.

Recreation Insurance (Accident Insurance)

Insurance amounts: examples			Rate	Insurance premium (approximate) Per person/per day
Death/residual disability	Hospitalization insurance daily amount	Outpatient insurance daily amount
¥1,000,000	¥1,500	¥1,000	A	¥9

			B	¥113
			C	¥225
¥5,000,000	¥5,000	¥3,000	A	¥37
			B	¥184
			C	¥368

(Insurance amounts and premiums are current as of October 2024)

Contract Conditions

- The number of insured persons must be twenty or more per day, or forty-five or more for the entire event if the event is held on multiple dates.
- Events that involve overnight stays are not covered by recreation insurance. They are covered by domestic travel insurance or other types of accident insurance. Such insurance is also offered by Creohuman.
- Group discounts may be available depending on the number of insured persons.
- Insurance premiums vary depending on the type of recreation.
Examples of types of recreation to which the A rate applies: volleyball, hiking, dodgeball, softball

3.3. Sports Safety Insurance

(1) Sports Safety Insurance

This insurance is available to amateur groups of four or more people engaged in sports activities, cultural activities, recreational activities, volunteer activities, community activities, and so on. Extracurricular activity groups, such as athletic association affiliated groups, can also join if they meet the requirements.

The coverage includes accident insurance and liability insurance. Although there is some overlap in coverage with the Personal Accident Insurance for Student Pursuing Education and Research (Gakkensai) ([3.1] above), it is recommended to join as a safety net for your activities.

(It is a basic requirement that Athletic Association groups in particular apply for coverage.)

For more information on insurance rates and how to join, please check the following website of the Sports Safety Association (<https://www.sportsanzen.org/hoken/>).

4. Harassment Prevention

~ To avoid being either a victim or a perpetrator of harassment ~

Ritsumeikan University believes that creating a community where all students, faculty and staff members are respected as individuals, where they can learn and live actively, and that they can work safely and comfortably is important for their learning and growth, and for the University to fulfill its social mission.

The most important thing in creating an environment free of harassment is to understand that each person is different and to act with the awareness that both you and the other person are important individuals.

4.1 What is Harassment?

Harassment is defined as any conduct that goes beyond what is necessary and appropriate, to treat someone else unfavorably or harm the environment that they undertake activities in. There are various types of harassment including sexual harassment, power harassment, academic harassment and other harassment (alcohol harassment, racial harassment, etc. For more information, please refer to the Ritsumeikan University and Ritsumeikan Affiliated Schools Harassment Prevention Committee website.

IV. To Conduct Advanced Activities in a Safe Manner

4.2 If You Think You Are Being Harassed

- Since the other party is often unaware that you felt uncomfortable, calmly and accurately tell them what they said or did that made you uncomfortable. This links directly to protecting you and the other party.
- It is important to consult with someone you can trust and have them listen to you. Don't keep it to yourself. Also, if your friend seems a bit different than usual, talk to them and lend them some advice.
- If you are unable to communicate directly with your instructors or senior students, you should consult with the administrative office for issues related to class or research guidance, or with the head student, advisor, or the Office of Student Affairs for extracurricular activities.
- If there is a possibility of stalking or other physical danger, seek help from someone close to you or the administrative office of your college, and in cases where it is required, contact the police immediately.
- If you find it difficult to solve the problem by yourself, please consult with a harassment advisor. For harassment consultations and procedures, please refer to the Ritsumeikan University and Ritsumeikan Affiliated Schools Harassment Prevention Committee website.

5. For a Safe and Comfortable Student Life

In addition to what has been explained so far, there are other points, such as traffic safety, problems on the internet, and the Student Support Room, to keep in mind to ensure that extracurricular activities go smoothly. These points will be reviewed below.

5.1. Traffic Safety

There has been an increase in the number of traffic accidents involving students near campus. This is particularly true regarding motorcycles and bicycles. These accidents appear to be caused by excessive speeding, aggressive right and left turns, unreasonable overtaking, wearing earphones while riding, and not using lights.

When riding a motorcycle or bicycle to or during an extracurricular activity, please obey traffic rules and ride safely. In the event of an accident, please keep the following points in mind.

In the Event of an Accident:

- (1) Report to the police and contact your parents/guarantor.
- (2) If you have insurance, contact your insurance company.
- (3) Contact the Office of Student Affairs.

5.2. Drugs

In recent years, marijuana and methamphetamine use by university students and celebrities has been reported frequently in newspapers and on television. In particular, marijuana use is on the rise, with the largest number of arrests among those in their 20s and younger. Drugs are no longer something completely from a different world, as dangerous drugs known as “legal drugs” and “designer drugs” are being sold on the internet. Illegal drugs are highly addictive and can cause lifelong mental and physical harm. In addition, illegal drugs are subject to severe social sanctions once they are in someone’s possession. Please do not ever get involved with drugs.

5.3. Student Support General Guide

The Division of Student Affairs has the following four contact points where students can consult about problems and issues related to student life.

If you would like to consult with a support coordinator, please contact the Support coordinator of the Office of Student Affairs. Please have a look at the below website for details.

6. Health and Safety Management

Students who engage in extracurricular activities are members of their group, and while they are Ritsumeikan University students, they are also members of society as a precondition. Each student and student group should be aware of this fact and act accordingly. For example, it is important to abide by the rules and regulations set forth by the national and local governments and by the facility managers at the activity site. As students of Ritsumeikan University, we ask that you conduct yourself and your activities with awareness and responsibility.

You must be mindful of health and safety management, including infectious disease countermeasures, when engaging in extracurricular activities. Initial responses to heat stroke and influenza can prevent the symptoms from worsening and infection from spreading. Please make sure to discuss and build a common understanding in your group regarding health and safety management.

6.1. Heat Stroke

Heat stroke can occur even when you are inside a building. Please make sure you are in good physical condition and acclimated to the heat to avoid heat stroke.

Prevention and Treatment of Heat Stroke:

- (1) If you are in a high-temperature, high-humidity place, take more breaks, reduce the amount of exercise, and drink enough water before you get thirsty (this includes during exercise).
- (2) Stop exercising under severe conditions (such as when the temperature exceeds 35° C).
- (3) If you experience any symptoms of heat stroke, stop your activities immediately and go to the nearest medical facility for treatment.

6.2. Drinking Alcohol

The amount of alcohol you can drink depends on your individual constitution and physical condition. Drinking under the age of 20 is against the law. Forcing someone to drink alcohol is not only harassment but also extremely dangerous and can lead to serious accidents.

You may have the opportunity to drink alcohol at group get-togethers, but do not under any circumstances chug or force others to drink alcohol.

- (1) Drinking under the age of 20 is against the law!
- (2) Don't chug alcohol, and don't make others chug alcohol. (This is not only the individual's responsibility, but also the group's management responsibility.)
- (3) If someone becomes inebriated, make sure to take care of them.

Alcohol Consumption on Campus

The university does not allow any alcoholic beverages to be consumed on campus, except at university-sponsored events. If students are found to be drinking alcohol on campus, other than at university-sponsored or university-approved events, they will be dealt with strictly in accordance with the Student Disciplinary Regulations and the Student Group

IV. To Conduct Advanced Activities in a Safe Manner

Disciplinary Regulations.

6.3. Smoking

Smoking is a major problem. It is not only harmful to the health of smokers themselves, but also to the health of non-smokers due to second-hand smoke. It is necessary to understand smoking from a health and scientific point of view. It is not a hobby or fashion accessory. In addition to avoiding the habit of smoking for the sake of your own health, you should also think about proper smoking manners, such as ensuring separate smoking areas are maintained and not littering cigarettes, in order to avoid second hand smoking. It is also important to note that even if you have turned 18 and are now an adult, smoking under the age of 20 is still against the law.

In principle, Ritsumeikan University bans smoking on its campuses to promote health and to ensure a comfortable learning and working environment for all students, faculty, and staff.

However, smoking cessation support areas have been established to help smokers quit smoking without undue stress. Smoking cessation support areas refer to the designated outdoor smoking areas stipulated in the revised Health Promotion Act and are areas where smoking is permitted despite the campus-wide smoking ban.

The university has established these smoking cessation support areas for two main reasons. The first is to combat poor smoking etiquette around the campus and eliminate complaints from nearby residents. Smoking while walking or on private property has become a problem, and there are concerns about health hazards caused by cigarette butt litter and passive smoking. The second is to reduce the risk of fire on campus. Cigarette butts discarded in trash cans and hidden smoking are high fire risks in facilities that handle flammable chemicals.

Smoking on campus is strictly prohibited at Ritsumeikan University, except in the smoking cessation support areas. Never smoke outside of the smoking cessation support areas.

Note: In accordance with the revised Health Promotion Act, smoking is prohibited on the premises of Type I facilities, including universities [except in designated outdoor smoking areas].

Reservations of facilities (ordinary classrooms and student-related facilities) can be made from a week before the date of use, i.e. from the same day of the previous week as the date of use, to a business day before the date of use (according to the calendar for the Division of Student Affairs). You can check availability of facilities on TriR and then reserve a time slot of a classroom if it is not booked.

(2) Application-based Reservation

1) Reservations During Course Offering Periods and Summer/Spring Breaks

This allows groups to reserve on-campus facilities during the periods and breaks at once for stability in their activities. You can make multiple reservations on the same day of the week and/or at the same time slot during the target period.

➤ Spring semester reservation applications are scheduled for March, summer break applications for June, fall semester applications for July, and spring break applications for November.

* We will send announcements via manaba +R before each eligible period, so complete the necessary procedures if your organization wants to use one of these facilities.

- In case of advance reservation (e.g., when an instructor will be visiting the school or when advance notice is required)
- Use of facilities on the day of the event without a reservation due to unavoidable reasons
- Use of facilities after hours (late at night or early in the morning) due to unavoidable reasons

*In principle, late-night/early-morning and unreserved same-day facility use is not permitted.

4) Facilities Coordination Meeting (Held by the Office of Student Affairs at Kinugasa campus)

A facilities coordination meeting is held to coordinate the use of facilities between groups that have applied for batch facility reservations (such as reservations during course offering periods and summer/spring breaks, and event applications).

The Office of Student Affairs at Kinugasa campus will contact the groups in question. Please make sure to have at least one member from your group attend. If you do not participate, we will assume that you have abandoned your application for use and will proceed with coordinating without your group.

This section describes how to make reservations to use the lecture rooms and seminar rooms in Buildings A and C and the meeting rooms in Building D for the purpose of meetings (for study, etc.), practice (excluding activities with significant movement), and so on. You can apply from a week before the date of use, i.e. from the same day of the previous week as the date of use, to a business day before the date of use (according to the calendar for the Division of Student Affairs). Using TriR, you can check availability and apply to reserve an open time slot of one of the rooms listed in the previous pages.

For the first two weeks of classes in each semester, those rooms are not available until the fourth period, even if there are no classes being held.

The application deadline is 17:00 on the day before desired usage (one day earlier in the case of a Saturday, Sunday or public holiday due to the office counter not being open).

The application deadline for the facilities on the 1st floor of Building D is 15:00 on the day before intended use (or one day earlier if the office is closed for a Saturday, Sunday, or public holiday.)

Application-based Reservations

This type of reservation method is for facilities to which the regular reservation method is not applicable. Fill out the prescribed application form and apply online. Application-based reservations are divided into three categories below according to the purpose and reason for application.

(1) Specific-purpose Reservations

This application method is to make a reservation for a specific purpose (singing / musical instrument practice, dance practice, production activities, exercise, etc.). As with a regular reservation, you can apply from a week before the date of use, i.e. from the same day of the previous week as the date of use, to a business day before the date of use (according to the calendar for the Division of Student Affairs).

In principle, you cannot reserve student halls 1 and 2 and D171 at the same time. However, you may be able to do so if there is still an opening the day before.

The application deadline is 15:00 on the day before intended use (or one day earlier if the office is closed for a Saturday, Sunday, or public holiday.)

(2) Prospectus Reservations

If you need to make a reservation more than seven days in advance due to special reasons such as an event (see VII-8 for details), early reservations may be accepted. In such cases, on a prospectus, please write out the purpose/reason for use and the details of your plans for facility use and then talk with the Office of Student Affairs at OIC in advance.

For events held during the new student welcome season and school festival season, the new student welcoming committee of the Student Union and Ritsumeikan University festival committee will accept reservations during specific periods. The university also accepts reservations for facilities for plans related to the welcoming of new students held outside of these seasons. For details, please check the extracurricular activity support webpage.

The application deadline is 15:00 on the day before intended use (or one day earlier if the office is closed for a Saturday, Sunday, or public holiday.)

(3) Reservations During Course Offering Periods

You can make multiple reservations on the same day of the week and/or at the same time

The OIC arena can be reserved on a priority basis by the volleyball and badminton clubs of the Athletic Division and the cheerleading club (application made by the 15th of the previous month, facility reservation completed by the 20th). All other groups should use the prospectus reservations for available time slots in the upcoming month after the 21st, or the specific-purpose reservations seven or less days before day of intended use. In principle, the maximum number of slots (periods) per day is two.

The application deadline is 15:00 on the day before intended use (or one day earlier if the office is closed for a Saturday, Sunday, or public holiday.)
