Student Support Services

-Talking to someone is a big step toward a solution-

It is not uncommon to face various types of problems in your college life. Such problems might include: experiencing difficulty participating in classes, finding it hard to keep a balance between study and extracurricular activities or having difficulty with interpersonal relationships. There are many places on campus where you can get help and receive consultation. If you are not sure where to go, you can visit the Office of Student Affairs on your campus to meet a student support coordinator who will listen to your concerns very carefully and guide you to the appropriate support resources.

I am troubled by something... but I don't know who I should talk to.

You can come to the Office of Student Affairs to talk to me, a student support coordinator. I will listen to your concerns and guide you to the appropriate support on or off campus.

Medical Service Center

Where can I find help?

We provide consultation and medical services to students.

You are always welcome:

- When you have any health problems
- When you need first aid treatment
- When you want to consult about your physical or mental problems
- When you want to quit smoking
- When you want information about proper hospitals near the campus

No smoking on campus except in the designated smoking area. Smoking on streets around the campus is also banned by ordinance. Feel free to ask for help if you wish to quit smoking.

A "fever clinic" has been established to deal with infectious diseases. For details, please visit the Medical Service Center website.

The Disability Resource Center

Where can I find help?

Support for students with disabilities

Students are offered support in accordance with the Ritsumeikan University Policy on Support for Students with Disabilities, with the aim of "creating an inclusive university that supports students with disabilities."

- Eligibility for support
 Support is offered to students experiencing significant limitations in their academic pursuits due to physical disabilities such as impairments to vision, hearing or mobility, developmental disabilities, mental disorder, and intractable diseases, who request support and are considered in need by university.
- Scope of support
 - ① Essential support for academic accommodation within the university.
 - ② Additional student requested support based on need and individual consultation.
- The Disability Resource Center holds various events and recruits student staff on an ongoing basis to support students with disabilities. If you would like to get involved, please contact the Disability Resource Center.
- You can receive consultation without an official diagnosis.

Student Success Program (SSP)

What is the SSP?

The SSP is designed for students to cultivate the abilities shown below and to grow into independent learners, through proactive participation in support programs.

SSP Coordinators furnish methods and ideas and provide guidance and support based on each student's individual objectives, to help students acquire the abilities shown above.

Support Programs in the SSP

The SSP offers programs including seminars, small-group support, and individual support. Students can use these programs freely in line with their own individual conditions and needs.

SSP Seminar	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Gathering and organizing information Making a to-do list Time management Note taking Report writing, etc. The video is streaming on the SSP website.
Consultation hours and events with Peer Supporters	Opportunities for students to learn from one another, both face-to-face and online
Individual consultations with SSP Coordinators	SSP Coordinators provide study skills assessments and advice to help students grow and gain independence

To find out more, contact the Office of Student Affairs or SSP Coordinator.

Step 1

Schedule a consultation with an SSP Coordinator. You can do so in person, by e-mail, or using the reservation form on the SSP website.

Step 2

In discussion with an SSP Coordinator on your campus, discover your strengths and weaknesses, and what problems you can solve by developing new skills and approaches.

Step 3

The SSP Coordinator will provide you with essential problem-solving support, introductions to other resources on campus, and other forms of coordination.

Try Out the SSP Support Tools

The SSP offers three support tools to help you visualize, organize, and clarify your tasks.

First use the Course Study Planning Sheet to get a visual overview of your classes for the next half-year. Then, use the To-Do List to organize what you need and want to do in your student life. In order to put your To-Do List into practice, use the Time Management Sheet to clarify your tasks. Using these three tools together enables you to follow a procedure to take practical action.

Course Study Planning Sheet Plan out your next half-year of classes

This is a tool to collect and organize information on the classes you're taking, so you can plan ahead half a year at a time.

The sheet gathers together information including evaluation methods, course objectives, key points, tasks, reports, and exams, and class attendance. By collecting and organizing class information in this way, you will be able to see clearly what to do next.

You can find a simplified version of the sheet on pages 20-23.

To-Do List Understand what you need to do and what order to do it in

This sheet allows you keep tabs on the tasks you need to complete and clarify the process to completion. You'll find it easier to make progress in your studies and homework if have a solid grasp of tasks and deadlines and a clear plan of what to do when.

Time Management Sheet Decide how you'll use your time on a weekly basis

This virtual weekly schedule makes your current situation visible at a glance. Placing things on the To-Do List and your daily habits into a schedule format helps you identify the best ways to spend your time.

Make use of practical learning tools to manage your student life.

Access these web pages to download the tools and attend related seminars

What to do when you're in trouble

Avoid Trouble and Lead a Safe, Secure Student Life

University students are members of civil society. You are expected to uphold laws, regulations, and the rules and norms of the university and wider society, as well as conducting yourself responsibly with awareness and pride in your status as a university student. The booklet TIPS ON CAMPUS LIFE FOR STUDENTS—How to Lead a Safe and Comfortable Campus Life contains information on how to avoid the types of incidents and trouble that students often find themselves in, and enjoy your life as a student in safety and security. Please be sure to read through this information.

Topics covered include:

- Drugs, alcohol, social media
- Smoke-free campus, commuting rules
- Dangerous inducements, cults, theft, living alone, hazards when commuting to/from campus or going out at night
- Contractual acts, credit, cashless payments, national pension scheme, part-time work
- Comprehensive student support network information
- Student Disciplinary Regulations and Regulations on Disciplinary Action for Student Clubs

Injuries in curricular and extracurricular activities

■ The university holds Personal Accident Insurance for Students Pursuing Education and Research for all its regular students. This insurance offers benefits in the unlikely event that you suffer injury in an accident occurring in the course of your curricular (class) or extracurricular activities. (The university pays the insurance premiums.) For details, please check the QR code for "Instructions for making an insurance claim for injuries sustained on university premises or during curricular or extracurricular activities (Gakkensai)". If you are unsure about the procedures, please contact the Office of Student Affairs at OIC.

Events covered by the insurance:

During curricular classes and university events	One or more days of actual treatment
Injuries sustained in university facilities other than during extracurricular activities	4 or more days of actual treatment
During extracurricular activities (by university-recognized groups)	14 or more days of actual treatment

*Incidents during travel, such as commuting to/from campus, are excluded.

*In the event of hospitalization, coverage is provided from the first day

The above insurance does not cover personal injury and damage to property, so we recommend students take out their own insurance to protect against such eventualities.

Temporary loans in emergencies (lost or stolen wallet)

■ In the event that your wallet has been lost or stolen and you are unable to get home, the Office of Student Affairs may be able to loan you cash temporarily. Come to the Office to discuss your situation, bringing your student ID card and personal seal.

- Loan amount: Up to 20,000 yen
- Repayment due: Within three months

Note 1: The basic rule is to seek help from your guarantor first. This loan system is only for cases where help cannot be obtained in time.

Note 2: This system is not designed to support the costs of everyday living.

Scholarship consultations / inability to pay tuition due to change in household conditions / searching for the right scholarship

Ritsumeikan University has many scholarship programs to help students live a secure campus life and pursue their individual goals within and outside the classroom. Please familiarize yourself with these programs and utilize them effectively.

Working as a Peer Supporter or Student Staff Member

At Ritsumeikan University, there are many systems of peer support in which students support and learn from one another independently. Around 40 organizations and 4,000 students are involved in peer support activities. A way for students to assist other students, peer support is an opportunity for meeting, learning and growth among students from diverse national and regional backgrounds and value outlooks.

Peer support has a long history at Ritsumeikan University, beginning with the "Orientation Conductor" activities to support new enrollees and discussed at the Plenary Council* of the University as early as 1991. Today it is one of the university's distinguishing features.

*Plenary Council: Based on the idea that all constituents of the university should participate in self-government, Ritsumeikan University has established a system that enables the different groups that constitute the university —undergraduate students, graduate students, faculty and staff, and the university authorities (Executive Board of Trustees)—to engage actively in improvements and reforms to the conditions of education, research, and student life. This system is known as the "Plenary Council." The members of the Plenary Council are representatives of the Student Council and Graduate Student Council as the self-governing organizations of undergraduate and graduate students respectively, the Faculty/Staff Union, and the university authorities (Executive Board of Trustees), with the Ritsumeikan Co-operative participating as an observer.
