

The Fragmentation of the Global Economy, China's Rise, and intra-regional international circulation in East Asia and inter-regional international circulation with Europe

Speaker

Dr. Levente Horvath

Director of the Eurasia Centre at John von Neumann University, Hungary

- A China expert and Director of the Eurasia Center.
- Studied tourism management at Fudan University in Shanghai; awarded the rector's prize.
- Vice-President of the Fudan University Alumni since 2016.
- Completed a PhD at the University of Pécs (2017–2021) on Chinese geopolitical thinking and the One Belt, One Road initiative.
- Authored Chinese Geopolitical Thinking (Hungarian: 2022, English: 2023).
- Co-authored 75th Anniversary of Hungarian-Chinese Financial Relations (Hungarian & English: 2024, Chinese: 2025).
- Served as Hungary's Consul General in Shanghai (2015–2017), strengthening Sino-Hungarian ties.
- Held roles at the Hungarian Central Bank: Head of Education (2017–2019), Chief Advisor to the Governor (from 2019).
- Received the Shanghai Silver Magnolia Award in 2021 for contributions to the city's development.

Friday 11 July, 10:00–12:00

*Language: English *The registration in advance is not required.

In-person Participation (On-site)

Ritsumeikan University Osaka Ibaraki Campus (OIC) AN322

Online Participation (Online)

ZoomURL | <https://x.gd/zoom250711>

Meeting ID 946 0963 2731 / Passcode 466017

For participants joining via Zoom, a waiting room will be set up.
Please enter the waiting room and wait for our response.

In this case, participants are required to display their name and affiliation.

Organizer

Ritsumeikan Asia-Japan Research Development Program
“East Asian Cooperation in the Decoupling of World Economy:
Focusing on Rising China and ‘Double Twin Circles’”
(Project Leader: Prof. Kazuko TAKAYA)

Contact

Kazuko Takaya (Project Leader, Professor, College of Economics)
ka10taka@ec.ritsumei.ac.jp