

Graduate School Week 2023

Date : 2023/11/6(Mon) ~ 12/8(Fri)

Among the Programs of Graduate School Week, the programs held in English are introduced here.

Graduate School of International Relations

Ritsumeikan University's Graduate School of International Relations was established in 1992. Building on the fundamentals of the College of International Relations, which was established in 1988, we have cultivated top-level, specialized professionals with interdisciplinary perspectives across a wide range of fields.

The master's program offers learning opportunities in both English and Japanese as part of its systematic learning curriculum and guidance-based system. And, working with major overseas universities, we have also created a dual degree program where students may simultaneously earn two degrees.

The students enrolled in our program, as well as the professors, come from a wide variety of countries and regions, transcending borders and learning together.

During Graduate School Week, the Graduate School of International Relations has prepared events to help answer questions such as, "What are graduate school classes like?" and "What are the possible paths after completion?"

Please feel free to take part in any of the projects in which you have an interest.
