

AY2024 Application Procedures for the Program for the Promotion of Academic Publications

1. Purpose and Characteristics of the Program for the Promotion of Academic Publications

This program aims to promote the release and dissemination of research results by researchers at Ritsumeikan University. Under this program, grants are provided to promote the publication of outstanding research achievements in specialized areas, support early-career researchers, and facilitate the international dissemination of research results in English and other foreign languages.

This program will be implemented as part of the Fourth Ritsumeikan University Mid-Term Plan for Research Advancement (2021-2025), and is positioned as an initiative that will contribute to achieving the goals of the R2030 Academy Vision and the KGI/KPI (see Reference Material 1) of the Fourth Ritsumeikan University Mid-Term Plan for Research Advancement.

2. Outline

Applicable publications	Research results by Ritsumeikan University researchers that correspond to any of the following. <single author / co-author> <ol style="list-style-type: none"> (1) Notable research achievements in a specialized area (2) Publication in a foreign language as a result of research results with high academic value (3) Translation of foreign classics and other literature that are high in academic value (4) Republication/reprint of ancient manuscripts and other valuable literature/historical materials (5) Publication of a book in order to obtain a PhD <single author only> (Including those who have already applied for or obtained a PhD at the time of application) (6) Other research worthy of publication because its academic value is of a comparable level to those listed above. *This funding program does not cover the following publications: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> (1) Those that should be published by Ritsumeikan University's Institutes, Colleges or Graduate Schools (2) A simple compilation of papers already published in academic journals, etc. (3) Those that are published as part of a project by a publisher, etc. (4) Those that cannot be regarded as the results of academic research (5) Those that are considered as self-published (This program is applicable only to research results published through a publishing company and for which a contract can be concluded on the assumption that the publisher will bear the editing and proofreading costs.)
Applicable expenses	Direct publication expenses or translation/proofreading expenses *1
Grant amount	Up to 1,000,000 yen (Grants will be provided to approximately 10 projects.)
Applicable period	Research results to be published between April 1, 2024 and March 31, 2025.

Application requirements	1. The applicant shall fulfill all the following requirements. 1) A Ritsumeikan University full-time faculty member (including fixed-term members), Tokunin/Shonin Assistant Professor, Assistant <teaching staff only>, Senior Researcher, Researcher, Shonin Researcher, or Project Researcher <JSPS Research Fellow (PD, RPD) only> at the time of both application and publication. *2 2) For a joint publication, Ritsumeikan University faculty members who satisfy the requirements in 1) above shall account for at least one-third of the total number of authors (excluding doctoral students). *3 Or, the applicant shall be the person responsible for the relevant publication (i.e. the editor of the entire book). 2. The applicant has submitted a report for programs (including those other than this program) adopted in previous years.
Documents to be submitted	(1) Application form (attach research achievements records) (2) Cost estimate prepared by a publisher (on the prescribed form); or translation/proofreading cost estimate (on the prescribed form) if it is an application for a grant for translation/proofreading (in principle, you are required to submit estimates from two or more companies.) (3) If co-authored, written consent forms from all the co-authors (the format should be as appropriate and easily understandable).

*1 Direct publication expenses are defined as all the costs for composition, plate-making, printing, printing paper, and bookbinding. Expenses incurred in editing, proofreading, etc. shall not be included.

*2 The applicant shall be a Ritsumeikan University Professor, Associate Professor, Tokubetsu Keiyaku Kyoin (professor/associate professor), Tokubetsu Shohei Kyoin (professor/associate professor) <non-concurrent only>, Eminent Research Professor (professor/associate professor), Research Professor (professor/associate professor/assistant professor), Fixed-term Teaching Staff (professor/associate professor/lecturer/assistant professor), Tokunin/Shonin Assistant Professor, Assistant <teaching staff only>, Senior Researcher, Researcher, Shonin Researcher, or Project Researcher <JSPS Research Fellow (PD, RPD) only>.

*3 The exception to this is the cases where a book is published in a language other than Japanese (e.g. English).

3. Screening Procedure

(1) Screening committee

- 1) Applications will be examined and screened by the screening committee established for advanced research promotion programs.
- 2) Screening results will be reported to the Committee on Research Administration.

(2) Screening criteria

After an evaluation is carried out focusing on the following points, a comprehensive evaluation will be conducted.

- 1) Whether research results are of high academic value
- 2) Whether there is a clear publication plan, and whether it is definitely possible to produce a publication within the applicable grant period.

3) Circumstances of related research results and achievements

*Research results from the past five years (from April 1, 2019 to the date of application in 2023) registered in the Ritsumeikan University Researcher Database (kenkyusya-DB) such as "Books," "Papers," and "Research Presentations, etc."

*If you are an Assistant <teaching staff only> or a Project Researcher <JSPS Research Fellow (PD, RPD) only>, the achievements stated on a separately prescribed form

4) Priority shall be given to the following:

- Applications from early-career researchers
- First publications of researchers
- Publications for obtaining a PhD
- Publications in English or other foreign languages
- Co-authored publications involving a Ritsumeikan University Assistant Professor, Tokunin Assistant Professor, Assistant <teaching staff only>, Senior Researcher, Researcher or student in a doctoral program
- Publications for a research subject with which the applicant has newly applied to AY2024 Grants-in-Aid for Scientific Research -KAKENHI- / Grants-in-Aid for Publication of Scientific Research Results (Academic Publication)

4. Points to Note

- (1) If you are to receive a grant from any other undergraduate or graduate school, be sure to indicate the grant in the expenses section of the application form.
- (2) Grants are provided to the publisher, rather than to the relevant individual researcher. Therefore, if your application is approved, a publication contract (between a research leader and a publisher) and a contract on the grant for publication (between Ritsumeikan University and a publisher) shall be concluded.
- (3) The above contract must be concluded no later than December 31, 2024 in principle. If it is expected to be difficult to produce a publication by March 31, 2025, the funding will not be provided.
- (4) After publication, three copies of the publication shall be submitted to the University for library archival purposes. (The publication is provided for public reading at the University library, etc.)
- (5) In the foreword or afterword to the publication, it shall be clearly indicated that the book has been published under the Ritsumeikan University Program for the Promotion of Academic Publications.
- (6) If you submit more than one applications or were already screened in previous years, or there are multiple applications with similar research themes for the program, the funding amount may be reduced or your application may be rejected.
- (7) The amount of funding may be reduced as a result of the number of adopted applications.
- (8) An application must consist of four pages or less.
- (9) Applications will be copied in black-and-white and handed to the screening committee.
- (10) The funding shall be provided only to those who are to be employed by the University in AY2024.
- (11) An application may be returned without being screened if it is clear that the applicant does not fulfill the application requirements.
- (12) If publications that have been adopted for this program are also accepted for AY2024 Grants-in-Aid for Scientific Research -KAKENHI-/Grants-in-Aid for Publication of Scientific Research Results (Academic Publication), the Grants-in-Aid for Publication of Scientific Research Results (Academic Publication) will take precedence. However, if the amount of money to be awarded is less than that which would be awarded by this program, funding will be provided to make up for the difference.

5. Notification of Screening Result

Applicants will be notified by email of the result of screening around the end of March 2024. Adopted research projects will also be posted on the University's website.

6. Application Documents and Handling of Personal Information

- (1) Applications and other submitted documents and materials will be used for screening purposes only. Submitted documents and materials will not be returned.
- (2) Personal information obtained from submitted documents and materials will not be used for any purposes other than screening.

7. Application Procedure

Applicants shall make an application via the website below using prescribed forms.

Request for Information Registration in the Researcher's Database (kenkyusya-DB):

The Researcher's Database (kenkyusya-DB) is maintained in order to make a range of information concerning research results/achievements and researchers' profiles available on the Web. During the screening process, this database may be used as a reference for information concerning researchers who will participate in the program. In this respect, researchers are kindly requested to input as much related information as possible into the database. For further details, please visit the website of the Division of Research below.
